Play FIVE of Pennsylvania's BEST Destinations

Golfers have been coming to play in Pennsylvania for decades – and it is not hard to see why! Here are just a few of the things our customers have said about golfing in Pennsylvania:

Frank LaPorta — “This was our ninth golf trip. We have played in Delaware, Ocean City, MD and Avalon, NJ. The three golf courses we played in York were outstanding and the best we have played.”

Bill Link — “South Central PA, the best kept secret around”

Joe Hebler — “South Central PA was as good as any Myrtle Beach, Pinehurst or Trent Jones Trail destination.”

PEWA Group — “Poconos has a great advantage for Summer golf.”

Our Promise

We will be a knowledgeable, unbiased and reliable source for planning and booking golf package trips for our customers. We will build relationships with integrity and trust and will deliver service beyond expectation.

HERSHEY LINKS

HERSHEY
LINKS

Overlooking the Hershey cityscape, Hershey® Links stretches along 175 acres of natural bluffs and ravines that create a peaceful setting, while providing ample shot-making challenges.

The layout includes numerous lakes and creeks that impact strategy, pot bunkers, multi-level greens, wide vistas, a natural amphitheater around the 15th green, and natural wildlife habitats that include “deer crossings” along the route.

Designed by the world-renowned architect P.B. Dye, the course offers an unparalleled golf experience. Dye's design pulls together the distinctly different landscapes that make up the Tailings Nine Holes and the Mine Nine Holes. The course is very playable at 4,905 yards from the forward tees, 5,878 from the regular tees, 6,452 from the championship tees and 7,026 from the professional tees. This par 72 course can be a true test of golf. The combination of natural terrain, extreme elevation changes and challenging layout make Iron Valley Golf Club truly "A Course Like No Other."

Conveniently located just off Interstate 83 and Route 30, Springwood Golf Course is an 18-hole regulation length course that has earned a 4-star rating by Golf Digest for its challenging greens and resort atmosphere. Spread across nearly 6900 yards of meticulously maintained greens and fairways, the course tests even experienced golfers with its 100-foot drops and variety of vertical challenges. Since the course opened in 1998, golfers have favored Springwood's hole number six – a 307-yard, par 4 hole featuring a peninsula green. An onsite full service restaurant, Bogey Macaws American Grille, features indoor and outdoor seating with panoramic views of the course. Enjoy the same quality as our sister course, Heritage Hills, located less than 3 miles away.

Penn National – Penn National Golf Club features two championship courses – each awarded a four-star rating in Golf Digest's Places to Play 2001-2009. Founders Course (1968) is a traditional test of golf with treelined bluegrass fairways, a seven-acre lake and large, sculpted greens. This is a straightforward, classic golf course where “shorter and straighter” is better than “long and wrong!” Iron Forge Course (1997) is a modern, open-style layout featuring generous bentgrass fairways, fast bentgrass greens, dramatic views and rolling elevation changes. Many Iron Forge holes have wide landing areas with room to “let it go,” but the greens can be devilishly tricky. These award-winning courses are two of the most popular in the Mid-Atlantic and a “Must Play Double Play.”
